In Shattered Lands, you embark on a journey through a fully hand-drawn medieval world. You will be able to build your empire from the very beginning, starting in a small village and growing your village up to a mighty castle by conquering surrounding territories. Building up your wealth with taxes is only part of the strategy in Shattered Lands. You are free to choose how to pay your taxes, and no two games are the same. No matter how you choose to play in Shattered Lands, you will be part of an evolving history. You can choose to be a villager, farmer or gold miner. You can even play as a robber, a pirate or a mercenary. All in all, there are many possible strategies to be successful in Shattered Lands. Key Features: Hand-drawn graphics and interface A fully sandbox game that you can use to decide how to play: You can start from the very beginning and build a village on your own, or you can venture far out into the world and see where you land in the end. Fully hand-drawn medieval world Take part in a world that evolves based on your actions. You decide what happens with the resources you collect, what happens to the population, what prices you set, and who do you ally yourself with. Hundreds of castles and special buildings Own more than a hundred different types of buildings. Each of these is unique in both appearance and gameplay, and all influence the gameplay in your favor or against you. You have the freedom to choose which houses you ally with, so it is up to you to decide what kind of game you want to play. Protection or progression? Is your goal to grow your wealth or to spread influence in the lands. How will you build your city? Will you have enough protection or do you need to progress? You decide what kind of power you want to have. No matter which one you choose, it is up to you to make it happen. Explore the world of Eormor Play in the game for several hours or days, and in the end you can return at any time and continue where you left off. The Shattered Lands expansion for EORMOR is live now, and in it you are given the chance to play as a warrior in the war between the warring elven kingdoms! Will you become a dashing warrior, or will you fall victim to the monsters that live in the northern woods? Have you ever wanted to send a letter to a loved one from across a c9d1549cdd AnimARide helps you create your own animated adventures that can be viewed with a mobile device using the Pixel+ app. To create your own animated adventures, simply launch the animARide app and select a video file and cockpit from our extensive library. Set-up your cockpit and cockpit motion like incline, shake intensity, tachometer color etc. to make the car look as it does in real life. With the help of the custom physics engine, motion file and 3D cockpit from your video, AnimARide will render each 3D element of the cockpit and create an animated adventure of your own! We offer an extensive selection of cockpits from which you can choose from, such as Spitfire, Rocket, R.I.P., Tesla Model 3, Dime, Real American Hero, Red Bull, Subaru Impreza WRX, Jaguar, Corvette, Cyclone, Carpe Diem, GT500, Tuscan, Boxster and many more. You can choose any of these cockpits in the app or in the online store. You can also create your own cockpit as we offer a cockpit builder application. Just record your own panoramic video of your ride with your real-life cockpit, using our iOS app animARide MVC or our new stand-alone app. Or, if you have a GoPro MAX you can capture the motion while recording the video with the app. Once you record your video, AnimARide will automatically detect your cockpit in the video and prepare it for rendering. After that, it will transfer the motion to a motion file that will be ready to be imported into the app, ready to be transformed into an animated adventure of your own. With just one click, you can synchronize the motion of AnimARide with any other VR app that uses Oculus Rift SDK 1.1 such as Supermotion, motion simulations and as a motion simulator, we offer a compatible plugin to work as a 5D cinema with your motion seat. The plugin will enable all of the functions of AnimARide, but the other elements in the movie will not be affected. With the help of the custom physics engine, the motion of AnimARide will be transferred to the cockpit in your VR app with no manual interaction. For a complete experience, we offer an AudioSync feature that allows you to use the audio track of the video as a cockpit audio or

"Glitchbuster" is the sixth episode of the second season of the American science fiction television series Star Trek: The Next Generation. It first aired on February 8, 1988. Set in the 24th century, the series follows the adventures of the Starfleet crew of the Federation starship Enterprise-D. In this episode, the crew faces formidable, technology-warped alien life forms when they crash-land on an alien world. "Glitchbuster" is set shortly after the events of the episode "Sarek". As such, the episodes represent a change of pace for the series and the juxtaposition of contemporary technology with the unfamiliar environment of an alien planet contrasts strongly with space travel done in the 22nd century, explored in the pilot episode "The Cage". The title, "Glitchbuster", was taken from a 1962 song by them from the Breeders. Plot The Federation starship Enterprise, in its attempt to establish a Federation outpost on the planet Peneli, runs into an energy field that captures its main-computer. During the attempt to bring back control, the Enterprise is transported to the planet Nelbana III, where it is surrounded by a bizarre urban-styled, Lovecraftian city. The ship is retrieved and transported to the UN Starship Enterprise, where its crew learn that all life on the planet is non-sentient, meaning there are no other life-forms to fight. They try to locate the planet's source of energy in an attempt to stop it, but find an array of forcefields blocking its natural flow. Lieutenant Worf turns to the starship's computer for advice. Captured by the alien entity, and known as Q, he explains the problem but is repulsed by the alien. The alien entity agrees to let the crew of the Enterprise-D be repulsed for one hour. Captain Picard assigns the crew to their respective roles in protection of the Earth planet. The crew take up defensive positions on the planet. Worf takes the role of a perimeter guard, Wesley takes up support, Riker takes cover in a cave, and Data is outfitted with a cloak that covers his synthetic body parts and releases a powerful force so as to repulse the entity. Picard leads the battle team, taking the role of offensive leader, with Troi and Data. Picard, trying to find a weakness in the force field that protects the planet, is forced down into a pit. He brings Troi and Data with him and

System Requirements For Cruise Ship Manager:

Barbarian Knives & Weapons Armor The Barbarian class is about raw muscle and skill. To reflect that, most of their gear is physically heavy and fits together in a way that leaves little to no openings for stealth and hidden attacks. Despite that, some weapons and armor are able to be used without issue by stealthy players or for surprise attacks, or just to make the Barbarian more fun and menacing. This guide will cover the basics on how to craft all of the Barbarian's basic gear. It will be divided by weapon and armor. Armor
